

Ophthalmic Laser Service and Repair

Argon, Yag, SLT, Green, Diode, Argon and Krypton

With over thirty years of experience, our technicians can re-build, repair and service a vast array of ophthalmic lasers reasonably and efficiently. Even lasers that may no longer be supported by the manufacturer! Alcon, Coherent, Laserex, Ellex, Nidek and Zeiss. Re-built to factory specifications and like-new condition along with a full one-year warranty!

What doctors say:

We had a problem with our yag laser and received great service from Luis at Used Eye Equipment, The laser looks new and now works great without any problems. I recommend him without hesitation.

Ali Banihashemi M.D.

Our vintage Coherent argon laser stopped working abruptly. Laser repair services are few, and usually require costly air travel for the technician to make a site visit just to diagnose the problem. I made several unsuccessful contacts, even with providers who we've worked with in the past. No one wanted to even look at our laser. I got in touch with Luis at Used Eye Equipment. We agreed to ship the laser out to his facility (at less cost than the usual airfare for a technician to travel here). The problem was diagnosed, and we came to a fair and reasonable price to replace the laser. Although our offices are quite a distance apart, we kept in frequent communication by phone and email, so there were no surprises as to the progress of the job. We're back up and running today and I couldn't be happier with the experience. I would recommend Used Eye Equipment to anyone who needs to repair or replace their ophthalmic equipment.
